Jorge A. Santana taught at California State University for 37 years when he specialized in Spanish language and culture classes. He is the author of numerous books that deal with Hispanic folklore and literature. He was editor of the literary journal, Explicación de textos literarios, for 20 years.

Upon his retirement he took it upon himself to do his small part to save our planet from Climate Change with a comic book, Teslaman Fights Dirty, that he published with the incredible graphics of Mimi Cortazar from Bosnia Herzegovina. Volume II is in the works dealing with “Teslaman and Climate Change”. His latest publication is a booklet of imaginary and satirical postcards by famous VIPs.

Statement From Ken Scherer - March 1 2022

This is just a small sample of the burdens placed on anyone looking for public funds dolled out to government intuitions for administration. IT NEEDS A REVAMP ASAP or it will consume everybody. What a luxury the state has.

Millions of dollars to attract the best idea, yet the best ideas are not even funded. They spout out of the ground. They are like a beautiful flower, but the flower has not been able to grow. Giants have been stepping all over them, not seeing their beauty.
